21 Square Miles of Spring Adventure

With a moderate climate warmed by the Gulf Stream, Bermuda offers endless adventures across its 21 square miles. Try some of the island's most engaging outdoor activities, see inspiring sights and seek out rejuvenating experiences.

1 // Go Whale Watching

In March and April, catch the annual migration of 10,000 humpback whales as they make their way through Bermuda's waters. These majestic creatures are best seen by boat; book through Island Tour Centre or the Bermuda Aquarium.

2 // Go Fly a Kite

Colourful kites are flown on Good Friday and remain a vivid symbol of Bermuda in spring. Join the crowds on Horseshoe Bay Beach, who fill the skies with kites of all kinds each year.

3 // See Bermuda as Artist's Muse

Take part in a fun painting workshop, Strokes in the City, by local artist Alshante Foggo for a colourful keepsake and a taste of her vibrant style.

4 // Practise Yoga al Fresco

Enjoy sun salutations along the coastline and among the lush, natural beauty of Bermuda. Find instructors and classes at Lucky Elephant Wellness in the City of Hamilton.

5 // Tee Time

With more courses per square mile than anywhere else and dramatic oceanfront fairways, the island is a golfer's paradise. A perfect excuse to get the group out here.

6 // Walk on the Wild Side

Trunk Island, a seven-acre sanctuary in Harrington Sound, was preserved to safeguard Bermuda's diverse habitats. Contact the Bermuda Zoological Society for weekly tour dates.

7 // Learn to Sail

Thanks to immersive programmes run by U Sail Bermuda and the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club, you can learn to sail on peaceful Harrington Sound or the waters of Hamilton Harbour.

8 // Take the Family to Fun Golf

With 18 miniature replicas of some of the world's most iconic holes (think the Road Hole in St. Andrews), Fun Golf in the Royal Naval Dockyard is perfect for kids and kids at heart.

9 // Indulge in Retail Therapy

The City of Hamilton is a compact capital city full of unique places to shop. Front Street is well known for its candy-coloured boutiques, but don't miss Reid Street, where some of Bermuda's most beloved shops have popped up in recent years.

10 // Bathe the Turtles

That's right. Scrubbing shells of sea turtles is a fun way to learn about the Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo's ongoing conservation effort, the Bermuda Turtle Project (held the last Saturday of the month at 10 am).

ROYAL NAVAL

11 // Tour on Two Wheels

Zip around on an electric scooter with Funworx for a lively and environmentally friendly view of the island.

12 // Explore the Island's Nature Reserves

Walk the trails and impressive rock formations surrounding Spittal Pond and try to spot the endangered Bermuda skink, Bermuda's only endemic island vertebrate.

13 // Travel Back in Time

Marvel at restored vintage mopeds and classic cars at the Bermuda Transport Museum in Royal Naval Dockyard.

14 // Have a Ball on Bermuda's Courts

Tennis is great year-round in Bermuda, thanks to a temperate climate and an array of top-notch facilities.

15 // Dance to the Gombey Beat

Cheer on brightly adorned Gombey dancers, who capture the pulse and rhythm of Bermuda's culture. Watch the troupe perform every Wednesday night on Front Street in the City of Hamilton, beginning in May.

16 // Walk the Ocean Floor

Hartley's Helmet Diving leads underwater walks that take you eye-to-eye with fish, turtles and more. Using a helmet with large glass windows and air hoses, divers can walk and breathe freely as they explore the colourful coral reefs.

17 // Go Line Fishing

Catch bonefish, hogfish and other species during a day trip with Jump Dem Bones, Bermuda's only inshore fishing guide.

18 // Stroll Palm Grove Gardens

Wander the manicured gardens of this private estate that was opened to the public by former Premier Sir David Gibbons. Don't miss its centerpiece – a living map of Bermuda set inside a lily pond (closed Friday-Sunday).

19 // Shop the Farmers Market

Buy fresh-picked Bermuda strawberries, home-baked breads and local treats galore at the farmer's market in the Bermuda Botanical Gardens, held Saturdays from 8 am to noon.

20 // Rent an Electric Car

Let the wind blow in your hair behind the wheel of a Tazzari, one of Bermuda's four-wheeled, electric mini cars, featuring windowless open cockpits.

21 // Catch the Wind

Learn to fly over and on the turquoise ocean with kiteboarding lessons that are available through Island Winds, which operates upon request on waters around the island.

Three Sides of Bermuda

We invite you to explore Bermuda and its surrounding waters. To get a lay of the land, start with the island's three main regions.

Out here, a small population of 65,000 residents makes for a strong neighbourhood identity. Each community brings with it a unique blend of cultures all its own, and a local character to match. Whether it's the history-rich East End, still stamped by its colonial past; the sophisticated and global capital, City of Hamilton, at the centre; or popular sightseeing hub and maritime vestige, the West End, Bermuda is easy to get to, but a world away.

Let the locals be your guide.

Museum & Zoo / Flatts Village

East End

Site of the island's former capital and a UNESCO World Heritage Site, the Town of St. George in the East End is rich with British colonial history and culture. You'll also discover many natural attractions, including Blue Hole Park and the Crystal Caves of Bermuda.

Exploring with Dr. Ian Walker // Principal Curator, Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo

"Our mission is to inspire an appreciation for our environment," says Dr. Ian Walker, Principal Curator for the Bermuda Aquarium, Museum & Zoo (BAMZ) in Flatts Village. "We want to ensure that every young person and adult understands that it's not a given – that our ecosystem is fragile, and we all need to do our part to help protect it."

For Walker, that means running BAMZ and spearheading the conservation and research programmes of the Bermuda Zoological Society, including efforts to bolster populations of endangered cahows (a pelagic seabird once believed to be extinct) and restore endemic species of plants on nearby Trunk Island. But that doesn't mean he doesn't have time to enjoy the very environment he's tasked with protecting. "One of my favourite places is Cooper's Island," says Walker of the 12-acre nature reserve located in St. David's.

"A lot of people just stop at Clearwater, which is one of the island's most beautiful beaches," he says, "but if you take the time to walk past the gate and go deep into the reserve, there's so much pristine natural beauty to explore." It's a place Walker likes to visit during the day before eating dinner at Blackbeard's Hideout, a restaurant on the island's eastern tip.

"The food is always amazing," says Walker, "and the sunset view is the very best in Bermuda."

Central

Central Bermuda is home to the capital, City of Hamilton, a harbour town known for its blend of global sophistication and local flavour. Enjoy dining, shopping, nightlife and the island's most cosmopolitan culture, and find great beaches, gardens and golf nearby.

Exploring with Nzingha Ming // Gallery Director, Bermuda Society of Arts

The City of Hamilton is home to more than the island's largest concentration of shops and restaurants. As the capital of Bermuda since 1815, the city is one of the island's main cultural hubs, where galleries like the Bermuda Society of Arts (BSOA) feature an ever-changing lineup of locally created artwork.

"This is the people's gallery," says Gallery Director Nzingha Ming. "So if you're trying to expose yourself to the arts or if you're an artist who's ready to showcase your work, the BSOA is here to provide you with a welcoming space."

Located on the second floor of the Hamilton City Hall & Arts Centre, the BSOA commonly showcases invitational exhibits, when seasoned artists show their works alongside first-timers. It proudly displays the artwork of local school children, which is one of the reasons it attracts such a diverse audience.

"I think every Bermudian has been here at least once," says Ming.

So where else does she get inspiration?

"The Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art is one of my favourite buildings housing art right now," says Ming of the purpose-built gallery, which is located in the Bermuda Botanical Gardens and features 19th century masters such as Winslow Homer and Georgia O'Keeffe. "The fact that you can witness the history of Bermuda art all in one building is incredibly special."

West End

A hub for sightseeing, shopping and entertainment, the historic Royal Naval Dockyard is one of Bermuda's most popular destinations. Also in the West End, you'll find many of the renowned South Shore highlights including Horseshoe Bay, Warwick Long Bay and Gibbs Hill Lighthouse.

Exploring with Jessie Seymour // Lead Singer, The Big Chill

When Jessie Seymour was tapped to be the lead vocalist for one of Bermuda's biggest live music acts, it was a calling that was years in the making.

"Everybody in my family sings," says 30-year-old Seymour, whose father was a musician in a popular island band during the 1970s and whose mother watched him sing in the First Church of God choir as a child.

These days, Seymour has traded gospel hymns for pop hits and soul classics since his band – a prolific trio called The Big Chill – began playing in venues across the island.

"I love making music," says Seymour, who performs alongside Tony Brannon on electric and acoustic guitar and D.J. Felix Tod.

*"You've got to get a shrimp dinner
at Woody's.
There's no place better."*

---

One of his favourite spots to play is Rum Bum Beach Bar, an open-air bar and restaurant at Horseshoe Bay Beach, one of the only bars in Bermuda where folks can eat food, listen to music and drink cocktails, sandy toes and all. "It's a no-shoes, no-shirt, no-problem kind of place," says Seymour.

His other favourite spot on the West End?

"You've got to get a shrimp dinner at Woody's," he says. "There's no place better."

Going Green

On the 50th anniversary of Earth Day, local nonprofits are leading the charge to preserve the island's natural environment.

When Earth Day first took place on April 22, 1970, it set out to be the world's biggest day of civic action, when volunteers plant trees, clean up their communities or write their politicians to call for environmental protection. Fifty years on, more than a billion people in over 193 countries observe it – including Bermuda, where members of Keep Bermuda Beautiful (KBB) have worked to protect the island's natural environment since 1964.

Cleaning Up Tons

"Our mission is to encourage individuals to take greater responsibility in eliminating waste and reducing litter in Bermuda," says KBB Executive Director Anne Hyde. "We feel it's so important because the island's biggest asset is really its God-given beauty and if we don't work actively to preserve that, it could quickly go away."

Last year, KBB cleaned up 66,500 pounds of litter and illegal dumping with help from hundreds of dedicated volunteers who gave 6,590 hours. While its monthly cleanups are popular with locals and eco-minded tourists alike, no event is as big as its island-wide Earth Day cleanup.

"We had more than 700 volunteers for the event last year," says Hyde, who anticipates an even bigger turnout in 2020.

The good news is that KBB doesn't have to fight the ongoing environmental battle alone.

"We're totally supportive of the work that our sister organisations are doing," she says. "Particularly the National Trust and the Bermuda Zoological Society, which are leading the charge to help preserve our natural spaces."

Visitors and locals can participate in the Earth Day cleanup on April 25 from 9 am-12 pm. Find out more by visiting kbb.bm.

Cultivating Conservation

Another ambitious nonprofit, the Bermuda Climate Action Network, aims to plant 2,020 trees this year to help mark Earth Day's 50th-anniversary year. They planted over 50 in January and schools like Warwick Academy have been busy planting edible fruit trees on primary-school campuses across the island.

Terrestrial Conservation Officer Jeremy Medeiros works with the Bermuda Zoological Society to improve natural habitats. Combined with local scientists' efforts to bolster populations of endemic plants and species on Nonsuch and Trunk Islands, the culture of environmental awareness is like no other.

"It's amazing," says Hyde. "The sense of volunteerism in Bermuda is so very strong and I'm grateful for all of the hard work everyone gives to help protect our community."

Luxe Island Experience

MORNING // BREAKFAST AT THE PINK BEACH CLUB

With indulgent choices like eggs Benedict with kale and short ribs, fried eggs over lobster hash and brioche French toast with bananas Foster, choosing what you'll have for breakfast at this chic, beachfront restaurant at The Loren might be the hardest part of your day.

Active Exploring

MORNING // BREAKFAST AT THE BOTANICAL GARDENS

Originally created in 1898 to protect the island's endemic populations of cedar and palmetto trees, the Bermuda Botanical Gardens features 36 acres of tropical gardens to explore. It's also where you can grab a healthy breakfast at Homer's Café, a cozy spot inside the Masterworks Museum of Bermuda Art that serves home-baked goods and fresh-fruit smoothies.

Family Adventure

MORNING // BREAKFAST AT HAMILTON PRINCESS & BEACH CLUB

Start your day at Hamilton Princess touring its collection of contemporary art. Enjoy breakfast outside at the newly refurbished Crown & Anchor Terrace. When you're done, walk five minutes to the public ferry dock to board a boat to the Royal Naval Dockyard and its collection of family-friendly activities.

Indulgent Retreat

MORNING // FRESH PRESSED JUICE AT OM JUICERY

Specialising in cold-pressed juices, superfood smoothies and vegan treats, North Hamilton's Om Juicery is a perfect place to add a nutritional boost to your day. Take yours to go, since you'll be walking to City Hall, home to the Bermuda Society of Arts and its ever-changing exhibits of local artwork.

Uninhabited for more than a century after its discovery, Bermuda proved a veritable paradise when sharp reefs gave way to turquoise waters and fertile land.

Explore More

Four centuries later, the island remains a haven for adventure, exploration and the arts. From sunken shipwrecks to centuries-old colonial architecture, GoToBermuda.com features itineraries to suit every traveller.

AFTERNOON // 18 HOLES AT TUCKER'S POINT GOLF CLUB

Featuring steep elevation changes, challenging doglegs and gorgeous views of Castle Harbour, this 6,500-yard course was designed by Robert Rulewich, the acclaimed architect who studied under Robert Trent Jones. When you're done, grab lunch at Sul Verde; Italian for "on the green." This on-site restaurant serves thin-crust pizza and rich Neapolitan cuisine.

EVENING // DINNER AT TEMPEST BISTRO

Named for the Shakespeare play inspired by the ship that crashed on Bermuda's shores in 1609, this elegant St. George's restaurant serves traditional French cuisine in a beautifully renovated former military warehouse decked out in white brick walls and iron chandeliers.

AFTERNOON // CLIMB THE CATHEDRAL

For the best bird's-eye view in the City of Hamilton, head to the Bermuda Cathedral, where you can climb its 155-step church tower for a 360-degree panorama from its open-air roof deck. Afterwards, grab lunch at Devil's Isle, where farm-to-table cuisine is served on its breezy sidewalk patio.

EVENING // DINNER AND DRINKS UP THE LANE

Start your evening on Chancery Lane, a well-hidden alleyway just off Front Street. Once there, enjoy French delicacies like escargots and duck confit at Bolero, before tucking into Yours Truly, an unmarked speakeasy with an ever-changing menu of classic and craft cocktails.

AFTERNOON // GLASS-BOTTOM BOAT TOUR

With hulls made of thick glass for an up-close view of colourful coral reefs and tropical fish, Bermuda's glass-bottom boats are a fun outing for the whole family (book through Island Tour Centre). Once on land, treat the kids to a cone of Alex + Pete's ice cream, a local artisanal treat served at the glass kiosk next to your point of arrival.

EVENING // TOUR THE TRANSPORT MUSEUM

Featuring vintage motorcycles, exhibits about the Bermuda Railway and classic cars galore, the Bermuda Transport Museum is ground zero for anything on wheels. When hunger calls, head to Café Amici in the Clocktower Mall, where the fam can gobble up pizza and pasta.

AFTERNOON // SIP AND SAVOR TOUR

Eat and drink like a local during a Sip & Savor Tour through the City of Hamilton. This two-and-a-half hour walking tour visits food trucks, take-out restaurants and mom-and-pop shops as you sample the island's many flavours – like Portuguese malasadas and the famed Bermuda rum swizzle. Come hungry!

EVENING // DINNER AT MAD HATTERS

Indulge in whimsy by reserving a table at Mad Hatters, a locally beloved restaurant where patrons are encouraged to don funny hats while eating hearty Continental cuisine (like brandy-flamed duck breast) and local favourites alike (think banana-nut-crusted rockfish). Your inner Alice in Wonderland will thank you.

Getting Around

Whether by bus, bike, ferry or taxi, Bermuda is safe and easy to explore. Public transport is a great way to get a taste of Bermuda's alluring nature. Rent a bike or two-seater and zip around to hidden gems.

Four scenic ferry routes connect major island hubs.

The blue and green routes head west; the pink stops in central Paget and Warwick; the orange operates in summer and connects Dockyard to the Town of St. George. All depart from the Ferry Terminal on Front Street in the City of Hamilton. Cash is not accepted, so have your transportation pass, ticket or token ready.

Taxis provide transportation and sightseeing by the hour.

Many taxi drivers are also excellent tour guides, eager to share the stories behind Bermuda's landmarks for $50 – $70 USD per hour. Find them outside larger hotels, near the airport or on busy streets.

Pink buses are plentiful and frequent.

Colour-coded stops make it easy – pink to town (Hamilton); blue to head out (east or west). Tickets, tokens or transportation passes are available at bus or ferry terminals, or board with exact change.

Explore like a local on a scooter or bicycle.

We drive on the left and we drive slowly – the official speed limit is 21 miles per hour. Bikes can be rented from Elbow Beach Cycles, Eve's Cycle Livery, Oleander Cycles and Smatt's Cycle Livery.

Rent electric cars to explore at your leisure.

These compact two-seaters, available from Current Vehicles, Oleander Cycles, Localmotion and Rugged Rentals, can travel up to 70 miles on a single charge.

Advantage: Tennis

Tennis in Bermuda is great year-round thanks to a temperate climate and top-notch facilities. The only dilemma: whether to play oceanside with gentle breezes or opt for an inland court where you can take a dip in a pool afterward. Either way, it's game on. Keep your eye on the ball and don't get distracted by the breathtaking vistas. Here are seven places to play.

Fairmont Southampton Resort

You'll find six superbly maintained oceanfront hard courts, a pro shop and expert coaches, including Bermuda's No. 1, Gavin Manders, a Davis Cup player. Pro tip: snag Court 6, a favourite of ex-Wimbledon champ Pat Cash. It draws the best ocean breeze.

Elbow Beach Bermuda Resort & Spa

With five Plexipave courts close to the beach but shielded by casuarina and palm trees, this court's amenities include a pro shop and courtside water coolers. You'll feel welcome at this family-run enterprise headed by husband and wife Laverne and Braxton Stowe.

Grotto Bay Tennis Club

Kid-friendly with lots of mini-racquets for hire, the four hard courts are floodlit for night play and are part of the Grotto Bay Beach Resort. Consider booking a massage at the luxurious spa cave to ease your muscles and achieve full relaxation after your workout.

Tucker's Point Tennis Club, Rosewood Bermuda

An exciting tennis centre that has partnered with esteemed management company Cliff Drysdale Tennis, this facility has four lit clay courts, a pro shop and locker rooms. The programme includes innovative retreats and engaging clinics for adults and juniors. Enjoy a post-match pizza – and phenomenal views over Castle Harbour – at Sul Verde.

Hamilton Princess & Beach Club

These eye-catching pink tennis courts are located by the Princess Beach Club, sheltered on picturesque Sinky Bay, a private cove on the South Shore. It's just 20 minutes from the City of Hamilton via a complimentary jitney. After playing here, you can lounge on water hammocks or grab a chilled cocktail.

Pomander Gate Tennis Club

Just a few minutes outside Hamilton, this historic club welcomes temporary members. There are four lit hard courts and four pickleball courts – and if you lose in straight sets, you can console yourself with a cocktail at the bar.

The W.E.R. Joell Tennis Stadium

Among the less expensive options, this government-run facility is named for William E.R. Joell, who fought for integration at this once all-white facility. A ten-minute walk from Hamilton, it has five courts, a practice wall and three clay courts (a good option when it's rainy). Take a handful of quarters or a few $1 BDA coins for the drink machine.

How to Train Like a Triathlete

When two-time Olympian and ITU World Champion Flora Duffy competed in her first triathlon at the age of seven, the Bermudian triathlete knew she was hooked.

"That was it," says 30-year-old Duffy, who currently splits her time between Boulder, Colorado and Stellenbosch, South Africa when she's not visiting friends and family in Bermuda. "The rest of my childhood was spent entering every running, cycling and swimming race on the island," she says. "With a perfect year-round climate, there really couldn't be a better place to grow up racing."

And fortunately for Duffy, Bermuda has become a major player in the international triathlon circuit since the island first hosted a leg of the ITU World Triathlon Series in 2018 – a race she handily won. Bermuda will host the race this year on April 18th, as well as the ITU Grand Finals in 2021. The race attracts amateurs and elite athletes alike.

"Winning that race was a pretty big moment for me," says Duffy, who finished a full two minutes ahead of Great Britain's Vicky Holland and the U.S.'s Katie Zaferes. "I was most proud of how the community came together to support a fellow Bermudian in such a powerful and passionate way."

So how do you train like a true triathlete during your visit to Bermuda? Take some tips from Flora Duffy herself, who looks forward to hitting the pavement and the pool when she's here this April.

Swim Shelly Bay

When Duffy needs a controlled environment to measure distance or practice breaths, she can often be found doing laps at Bermuda's National Sports Centre, a gleaming Olympic-worthy facility in Devonshire Parish. But when she wants to hit the open water, her first choice is Shelly Bay, a calm cove on Bermuda's North Shore where she commonly trains.

"A big fear for a lot of people getting into triathlon is swimming in open water," she says, "but the more you can be exposed to it, the more comfortable you'll be in that sort of surrounding."

And since Shelly Bay is protected from open ocean swells, it's a perfect place to train for beginners and pros alike.

"It stays shallow for quite a long way," she says. "Plus, you'll never get a lot of chop like you can on the South Shore."

Run the Railway Trail

Once home to a working rail line that ran across the island from 1931 to 1948, the Railway Trail is now a scenic pedestrian and bicycle path featuring 18 of its original 21 miles, which are open to the public.

"I do most of my running on the trail," says Duffy, who particularly loves the section between Coney Island and Crawl Hill in Hamilton Parish, which features a 740-foot-long footbridge that crosses Bailey's Bay.

Another favourite route of hers is the stretch of South Road between Church Bay and Warwick Long Bay, with its unending views of the turquoise Atlantic Ocean and wide grassy sidewalks so you can avoid any vehicular traffic.

"Another good way to do that is to start your run first thing in the morning," she says of avoiding cars. "That, and Bermuda at sunrise is so very peaceful."

Bike Bermuda's Hills

"The whole island is rolling," says Duffy, "so wherever you ride is going to be challenging." Some of her favourite climbs?

"A great ride is up Lighthouse Hill heading to Gibbs Hill Lighthouse in Southampton," she says. "And the two hills on either side of the Fairmont Southampton are quite a challenge if you went up one side and down the other, then kept repeating the ride up and down."

And while there are plenty of climbs to test the fittest of riders, one of Duffy's most beloved routes is a loop she takes from her house in Paget Parish through the Town of St. George on Bermuda's East End.

"You're right next to the ocean for most of the time and you pass by all of these beautiful coastal cottages," she says. "It's one of the island's prettiest rides."

Spring Awakening

From flowering freesias to colourful kites, Bermuda's springtime traditions are an integral part of its rich island culture. But more than anything, springtime in Bermuda is all about family, and no one island tradition is as beloved as flying a kite on Good Friday.

"As a kid, everyone learned how to make kites with brown paper bags and fennel sticks," says former Parliament member Jeff Sousa, who now runs a landscaping business. "And if you were really good, you'd get an old sheet from Granny to make the tail."

Meant to symbolise Christ's ascension to heaven, colourful kites are flown across the island during Easter weekend. One of the best places to spot them is over Horseshoe Bay Beach, where hundreds of people gather each year to kick off the festive holiday.

"It's truly a sight to see," says Sousa, who remembers flying his father's six-foot-long wooden kite as a child.

Celebrating the Island's Bounty

Kites are just one of many events islanders look forward to in spring – like the Bermuda Agricultural Show (commonly referred to as the Ag Show) in April, which celebrates its 80th anniversary this year. Meant to commemorate the island's agrarian roots, the Ag Show is a three-day, family-friendly exhibition where Bermuda's animal, fruit and vegetable farmers bring their best for all to see. With chickens, pigs, goats and locally grown fruits and vegetables of all kinds, the Ag Show is both a highlight of Bermuda's spring calendar and a tip of the hat to the island's beginnings as an agricultural exporter.

"You have to remember, where you now see golf courses and condominiums was once working vegetable farms and fields of flowers," says Sousa. "And most of what was grown here was bound for the eastern seaboard of the United States."

That includes Bermuda's very own Easter lilies, one of the island's main exports in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Bermuda's iconic white flowers are no longer a key export, they do still get sent abroad – namely, to the Queen of England. During Easter week, the governor hand-picks a bunch of the blooms from a local farm, and sends them to Buckingham Palace on an evening flight so they arrive just in time for Good Friday.

"Mark Twain said it best," says Sousa of the famed American author who often visited the island during the spring months. "You can go to heaven if you want, but I'd rather stay in Bermuda."

Party Like the Portuguese

Bermuda's diverse roots include distinct ties to African, English and Portuguese ancestry – the latter of which immerses the island in cultural activities every spring.

Perhaps the biggest celebration of the island's Portuguese heritage is the Santo Cristo dos Milagres Festival, a festive parade from St. Theresa's Cathedral – home of the island's largest Catholic congregation – through the flower-lined streets of Hamilton.

This year's festival takes place on May 17 and, as always, features traditional Portuguese music, dance and food (like sweet malasadas and red bean soup with spicy chorizo).

Dishing on the Destination

Fishcakes and Buns and Pie, Oh My!

From deep-fried favourites to fresh-baked breads, come take a bite out of Bermuda's traditional springtime cuisine.

When Karen Gilbert opened her roadside food truck in 1986, she had no clue her codfish cakes would be among the most beloved in Bermuda. Her secret ingredient?

"You've got to put love in them," jokes Gilbert, whose blue truck, Karen's Lunch Wagon, can be found along North Shore Road in Pembroke Parish.

It helps that her fishcakes feature a healthy portion of salted cod, which she says cooks often skip on.

"Otherwise they'd just be potato cakes," she says. "It's all about the fish."

A hearty Bermuda staple commonly served on a cinnamon-raisin hot cross bun, the cakes are one of many foods islanders eat during spring holidays.

An odd combination, maybe, but sweet-and-savoury flavours are prevalent in plenty of island cuisine, like buttery cassava pie, which is also eaten around Easter and baked in homes across Bermuda.

"My daughter's cassava pies are even better than my mama's" says Gilbert, "and my mama gave her the recipe!"

No matter whose kitchens these trio of traditional foods come from, finding an authentic taste of Bermuda is as easy as taking your first bite.

Easter Brunch

What You're Eating:

Hot Cross Buns

The Recipe: With their symbolic crosses, these sweet cinnamon-raisin rolls may not be unique to Bermuda, but island bakers have perfected the recipe over the years. In addition to common ingredients like flour, eggs, brown sugar, yeast and unsalted butter, Bermuda's buns feature an array of spices, including cinnamon and allspice, plus a large heaping of plump raisins to sweeten them even more. Eaten at breakfast with a dollop of butter or during the day with a fried fishcake sandwiched between its halves, hot cross buns are a must-have for any Good Friday or Easter weekend gathering.

Buy it Here: In addition to fresh-baked cinnamon buns, spicy gingerbread and treats galore, Sweet SAAK Bakery in St. George's is one of the best places on the East End to get traditional hot cross buns. Owned by pastry chef Kamillah Cannonier, this family-run bakery also makes chocolate fudge on Saturdays, which typically sells out in 48 hours.

Cassava Pie

The Recipe: Traditionally eaten at Christmas, Easter and other major holidays, cassava pie is a Bermudian staple. More of a savoury cake than an actual pie, it's made with grated cassava – a starchy root vegetable akin to yucca – and mixed with butter, sugar, eggs and spices, including nutmeg, allspice, salt and a pinch of vanilla. For a heartier dish, many islanders add diced boneless chicken thighs or even ground beef, but for a taste of the original, keep your eyes peeled for a plain pie that features the nutty flavour of the vegetable itself.

Buy it Here: Some of Bermuda's best cassava pies are baked in home kitchens across the island, but a handful of restaurants and grocery stores will stock their own versions during the spring and winter months. In the City of Hamilton, try Crow Lane Bakery, which sells both chicken and plain varieties from its Church Street location.

Codfish Cakes

The Recipe: Traditionally served on a hot cross bun over Easter weekend with tartar or hot sauce, codfish cakes are also eaten year-round, since the salted, dried fish is an ever-present ingredient in much of Bermudian cuisine (like the island's codfish breakfast, typically served with bananas, boiled eggs and avocado on Sunday mornings). Recipes vary wildly, but most include salted cod, potatoes and chopped onions seasoned with thyme, salt, pepper and parsley (diced chili peppers are also a popular addition). The mixture is then combined with eggs, rolled in flour and deep-fried until golden brown. Beware: The question of whose fishcakes are the best is a local debate that could last for days.

Buy it Here: You'll need wheels to find Karen's Lunch Wagon, a bright blue food truck that's parked along North Shore Road in Pembroke Parish. The popular roadside joint sits just east of the Black Watch Pass roundabout and it's where Karen Gilbert herself fries up some of the island's most popular codfish cakes.

Three Sides of Bermuda

We invite you to explore Bermuda and its surrounding waters. To get a lay of the land, start with the island's three main regions.

Out here, a small population (65,000 residents) makes for a strong neighbourhood identity. Each community brings with it a unique culture all its own, and a local character to match. Whether it's the history-rich East End, still stamped by its colonial past; the sophisticated and global capital City of Hamilton at the centre; or popular sightseeing hub and maritime vestige, the West End, Bermuda is easy to get to, but a world away.

Let the locals be your guide.

East End

Site of the island's former capital and a UNESCO World Heritage site, the Town of St. George in the East End is rich with British Colonial history and culture. You'll also discover many natural attractions, including Blue Hole Park and the Crystal Caves of Bermuda.

Exploring with Peter Frith // Historian and General Manager of the St. George's Foundation

When an English sailing vessel called the Sea Venture first crashed upon Bermuda's shores in 1609, it not only brought the island's first settlers, it carried one of Peter Frith's direct ancestors – a unique fact that's not lost on this trusted custodian of Bermuda's most storied town. "The fact that I've got this family history is an extreme source of pride," says Frith, who spent over 40 years in Bermuda's hotel industry before taking the helm at the St. George's Foundation in 2015. "Now that I don't have to wake up and go to a hotel, I can do what I love most, which is share the legacy and historical importance of St. George's."

"In St. George's you can start to feel yourself going back in time because of the architecture, because of the colours, because of what's under your feet."

As general manager of the St. George's Foundation, the lifelong historian executes his latest position with aplomb. That means overseeing more than 400 years of living history – like St. Peter's Church, which Frith says is a must-see for its ecclesiastical architecture, period antiques and collections of fine silver – and helping to champion a town that's as culturally relevant as Stonehenge, the pyramids of Egypt and the Great Wall of China. "In St. George's you can start to feel yourself going back in time because of the architecture, because of the colours, because of what's under your feet," says Frith. "The overall spirit of the town just oozes history. It really is a special place."

Why are the roofs white in Bermuda? Find the answer and other historical facts during a St. George's walking tour every Saturday. Book through the Visitor Services Centre.

Central

Central Bermuda is home to the capital, City of Hamilton, a harbour town known for its blend of global sophistication and local flavour. Enjoy dining, shopping, nightlife and the island's most cosmopolitan culture, and find great beaches, gardens and golf nearby.

Exploring with Shannon Cann // Owner of ASE Naturals

"Bermuda has a very powerful energy," says Shannon Cann, whose company ASE Naturals sells natural, vegan and nontoxic beauty products inspired by the island. Pronounced 'ahh-shay,' which is a Nigerian tribal word meaning 'the power to make things happen,' the company is one of the island's latest brands to draw inspiration from Bermuda's natural beauty.

"Everything that exists in the world has energy and Bermuda is surrounded by so much of it," says the entrepreneur, who started making beauty products in 2016 before launching a robust online marketplace with body oils, bath soaks and herbal teas just one year later.

Her mission is simple: To promote clean beauty through nontoxic and

"Everything that exists in the world has energy and Bermuda is surrounded by so much of it."

chemical-free beauty products. "Studies show that women put up to 500 chemicals on their skin, on average, per day," she says. "These products are all-natural, which help surround you with positive vibes so you can live your best life."

With so much to juggle, the hardworking businesswoman is always on the go, so how does she stay fortified while pounding the City of Hamilton's pavement?

"I love Ruby Murry's," says Cann of the popular Indian restaurant that's tucked away down Chancery Lane. "The place just makes you feel warm inside and they've got some great vegan options if you're searching for a wholesome meal."

West End

Exploring with Alicia Tucker // Owner of The Tuck Shop

Based in Heron Bay, Southampton, a quiet residential neighborhood where locals grab groceries and children board buses before and after school, The Tuck Shop has been a welcome addition to the colourful West End enclave.

"People come into my store all the time and say, 'it's so nice to have something like this outside of Hamilton,'" says owner Alicia Tucker, who opened her bakery-cum-general store in December 2017.

"When people stop in to buy my cakes, ladies' fashions or classic kids' toys, it's purposeful and deliberate," she says.

It also puts the Southampton native close to the beaches she grew up

"We love feeding the parrotfish since they come right up to the shore and eat off the rocks. I'm so lucky to call this place home."

enjoying as a child – beautiful slices of powdery pink sand where she now brings her two young children, Noah, 7 and Rose, 4.

"I love taking the kids to Jobson's Cove," says Tucker of the shallow, protected beach near Warwick Long Bay. "You can often have it all to yourselves."

So what's her perfect day under the sun?

"We love feeding the parrotfish since they come right up to the shore and eat off the rocks," she says. "I'm so lucky to call this place home."

Getting Around

Whether by bus, bike, ferry or taxi, Bermuda is safe and easy to explore. Public transport is a great way to get a taste of Bermuda's welcoming culture. Rent a bike or two-seater and zip around to hidden gems.

Four scenic ferry routes connect major island hubs.

The blue and green routes head west; the pink stops in central Paget and Warwick; the orange operates in summer and connects Dockyard to the Town of St. George. All depart from the Ferry Terminal on Front Street in the City of Hamilton. Cash is not accepted, so have your transportation pass, ticket or token ready. See the full ferry schedule on the following page.

Taxis provide transportation and sightseeing by the hour.

Many taxi drivers are also excellent tour guides, eager to share the stories behind Bermuda's landmarks for $50 - $70 USD per hour. Find them outside larger hotels, near the airport or on busy streets.

Pink buses are plentiful and frequent.

Colour-coded stops make it easy - pink to town (Hamilton); blue to head out (east or west). Tickets, tokens or transportation passes are available at bus or ferry terminals. Or board with exact change.

Explore like a local on a scooter or bicycle.

We drive on the left and we drive slowly - the official speed limit is 21 miles per hour. Bikes can be rented from Elbow Beach Cycles, Eve's Cycle Livery, Oleander Cycles and Smatt's Cycle Livery.

Rent electric cars to explore at your leisure.

These compact two-seaters, available from Current Vehicles, Oleander Cycles, Localmotion and Rugged Rentals, can travel up to 70 miles on a single charge.

1 Day 4 Ways

Uninhabited for more than a century after its discovery, Bermuda proved a veritable paradise when sharp reefs gave way to turquoise waters and fertile land.

Explore More

Four centuries later, the island remains a haven for adventure, exploration and the arts. From sunken shipwrecks to centuries-old colonial architecture, GoToBermuda.com features itineraries to suit every traveller.

Luxe Island Experience

MORNING // TEE OFF AT PORT ROYAL

Start your day like a pro with 18 holes at Port Royal Golf Course, a sprawling 6,842-yard course that's home to the Bermuda Championship. The PGA TOUR event will be played at the Robert Trent Jones-designed course through 2023. You can truly test your game here – if, of course, you can keep your eyes off its sweeping oceanfront vistas.

AFTERNOON // OCEANVIEW YOGA SESSION

Align your chakras with a private yoga session overlooking the island's stunning coastline. A certified instructor will meet you at a beautiful outdoor locale, and will lead you on your blissful Hatha or Vinyasa-style session. Namaste, indeed.

DINNER // SUNSET VIEW AT BLU

Request a table by the window at this upscale harbourside restaurant and you'll be rewarded with one of the finest sunset views in town. Even if you don't score one of the choicest seats, you'll be wowed by the seafood, steaks and sushi locals line up for nightly.

Active Exploring

MORNING // HORSEBACK RIDING IN ST. GEORGE'S

Saddle up at Moran Meadows, a family-run operation where you can trot across pink-sand beaches and near historic sites like Alexandra Battery and the mighty Fort St. Catherine. Want champagne and a picnic? Consider its two-hour ride, which covers much of the East End.

AFTERNOON // EXPLORE COOPER'S ISLAND

Rent a bicycle from Oleander Cycles in St. George's, then pedal your way to Cooper's Island Nature Reserve, a 12-acre refuge where you can explore hiking trails, spot seabirds and marvel at the hawksbill turtles that pop their heads up through its gin-clear waters.

DINNER // WAHOO'S BISTRO AND PATIO

This cozy waterfront restaurant in St. George's is one of Bermuda's very best spots to try wahoo, a flaky, white fish that's as delicious as it is versatile. Try wahoo fritters, smoked wahoo pate, Baja-style wahoo tacos or have it simply grilled with lemon butter and herbs.

MORNING // BREAKFAST AT BOUCHÉE

Treat your brood to brekkie at this charming French bistro not far from the Hamilton Princess hotel. Serving traditional American and European-style breakfasts, this popular spot also has a lengthy eggs Benedict menu if you'd prefer to sub your Canadian bacon for smoked salmon, poached lobster or Portuguese chorizo.

AFTERNOON // BERMUDA UNDERWATER EXPLORATION INSTITUTE

Budding marine scientists will love this 41,000-square-foot discovery centre devoted to Bermuda's vast marine ecosystem (think shipwreck artifacts, a hall of shells and an exhibit on the America's Cup, which the island hosted in 2017). Tip: Don't miss an experience aboard Blue Echo, its virtual submersible that mimics a dive to a depth of 12,000 feet.

DINNER // PIZZA AND PASTA AT PORTOFINO

One of Bermuda's most beloved Italian restaurants is this sidewalk café, where brick oven pizza and hearty pastas are served with aplomb. For a treat, reserve the chef's table, where you can try several small courses of traditionally prepared southern Italian cuisine.

Indulgent Retreat

MORNING // DRIVE YOUR TAZZARI TO BREAKFAST

The only thing you'll be plugging in today is your Tazzari – one of Bermuda's zippiest four-wheeled electric vehicles – for a cruise to Village Pantry in Flatts Village for breakfast. With an extensive selection of heart-healthy choices including paleo, vegetarian and vegan options, Village Pantry will leave you feeling blissfully satisfied.

AFTERNOON // HIKING IN SPITAL POND

With 64 acres of untamed nature to explore, much of it teeming with wildlife, you can spend several hours escaping in this, Bermuda's largest nature preserve. Amble along well-marked hiking trails, spot dozens of species of resident and migratory waterfowl and take in the photo-gobbling panorama from its oceanside bluffs.

DINNER // PICNIC ON THE BEACH

Grab a blanket, head to John Smith's Bay and let the pros at Eettafel serve a luxurious picnic dinner on a private pink-sand beach. Dig into delicate apps and hearty mains (think tuna ceviche and beef short ribs) but make sure to leave room for dessert: decadent options like molten chocolate cake are a perfect way to end a peaceful day in paradise.

On the Water

With miles of unspoiled coastline and gin-clear waters where adventure awaits, Bermuda's vast marine environment is a year-round playground. Whether you're strolling the pink sand, hoisting the sails or diving the deep, there's so much to explore in this sunny expanse of the Atlantic.

Kick It on a Kiteboard

Thanks to the island's consistent winter winds and temperate year-round climate, kiteboarding has literally taken off on Bermuda's beaches. Most top boarders launch from Elbow Beach, where you can watch them fly over its turquoise waters. To try it yourself, tap the pros at Islandwinds, who rent gear to experienced riders. islandwindsbermuda.com, +1 (441) 234-1111

Stroll the Beach

With so many pink-sand beaches to choose from, finding a slice to call your own is easy. Our favourite? Head to Horseshoe Bay Beach and simply walk east along the coast. In no time you'll encounter quiet coves and secluded bays, all of which are surrounded by volcanic rock formations where longtails fly and reef fish swim.

Watch Humpback Whales

If you're visiting in March or April, treat yourself to an experience of a lifetime by joining a whale-watching excursion off the South Shore. During those months, pods of majestic humpback whales pass Bermuda as they migrate to North Atlantic feeding grounds. Simply hop on a boat, where you can watch them breach and slap their huge fins on the ocean.

See page 30 for whale-watching tours

Sail the Seas

Bermuda is not one island, but an archipelago of more than 180 islets and cays. See them for yourself by stepping aboard a half- or full-day sailing charter, where you'll sail past uninhabited islands and into azure bays for an unforgettable day on the water. For private charters on a catamaran or monohull try Sail Bermuda, which runs trips from Hamilton.

sailbermuda.com, +1 (441) 737-2993

Explore the Deep

With over 400 wrecks in its waters, Bermuda is the shipwreck capital of the Atlantic. Explore Civil War-era steamers, fully intact freighters and wooden schooners galore by booking a SCUBA excursion through Blue Water Divers. As the only dive outfitter open year-round, this Somerset-based operation runs trips to most major wreck and reef sites.

divebermuda.com, +1 (441) 234-1034

Reel In The Big One

It's no secret why some of the world's finest anglers descend upon Bermuda for its annual fishing tournaments. The island's waters are teeming with billfish including marlin, swordfish and sailfish in addition to wahoo, tuna and mahi-mahi, which run in schools just offshore. Try chartering Paradise One, a 54-foot sportfishing catamaran with excursions daily.

Advantage: Tennis

Tennis in Bermuda is great year-round thanks to a temperate climate and top-notch facilities. The only dilemma: whether to play oceanside with gentle breezes or opt for an inland court where you can take a dip in a pool afterward. Either way, it's game on. Keep your eye on the ball and don't get distracted by the breathtaking vistas. Here are seven places to play.

Manders Tennis Management at Fairmont Southampton

You'll find six superbly maintained oceanfront hard courts, a pro shop and expert coaches, including Bermuda's No. 1, Gavin Manders, a Davis Cup player. Pro tip: snag Court 6, a favourite of ex-Wimbledon champ Pat Cash. It draws the best ocean breeze.

Elbow Beach Bermuda Resort & Spa

With five Plexipave courts close to the beach but shielded by casuarina and palm trees, this court's amenities include a pro shop and courtside water coolers. You'll feel welcome at this family-run enterprise headed by husband and wife Laverne and Braxton Stowe.

Grotto Bay Tennis Club

Kid-friendly with lots of mini-racquets for hire, the four hard courts are floodlit for night play and are part of the Grotto Bay Beach Resort. Consider booking a massage at the luxurious spa cave to ease your tired muscles and achieve full relaxation after your workout.

Tucker's Point Tennis Club, Rosewood Bermuda

An exciting tennis centre that has partnered with esteemed management company Cliff

Drysdale Tennis, this facility has four lit clay courts, a pro shop and locker rooms. The programme includes innovative retreats and engaging clinics for adults and juniors. Enjoy a post-match pizza – and phenomenal views over Castle Harbour – at Sul Verde.

Hamilton Princess & Beach Club

These eye-catching pink tennis courts are located by the Princess Beach Club, sheltered on picturesque Sinky Bay, a private cove on the South Shore. It's just 20 minutes from the City of Hamilton via a complimentary jitney. After playing here, you can lounge on water hammocks or grab a chilled cocktail.

Pomander Gate Tennis Club

Just a few minutes outside Hamilton, this historic club welcomes temporary members. There are four lit hard courts and four pickleball courts – and if you lose in straight sets, you can console yourself with a cocktail at the bar.

The W.E.R. Joell Tennis Stadium

Among the less expensive options, this government-run facility is a 10-minute walk from Hamilton. It has five courts, a practice wall and three clay courts (a good option when it's rainy). Take a handful of quarters or a few $1 BDA coins for the drink machine.

Elbow Beach Bermuda

Making Tennis History: Then & Now

Bermuda is the exclusive tourism partner of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships. The island's connection to the world of tennis goes back about 150 years. According to the International Tennis Hall of Fame, Mary Outerbridge, born in America to Bermudian parents, first came across the game while visiting her family's home in 1874, picking it up from British officers stationed in Bermuda. After sailing back to New York with tennis equipment, she introduced the sport to Staten Island, which eventually earned her the title "Mother of American Tennis."

This concert brings the music of Ray Charles to vivid life. It stars master pianist/vocalist Kenneth Brawner and Broadway veteran Harriet D. Foy. The music is interwoven with monologues depicting how gospel, blues, jazz and country influenced Ray's style, while also reflecting on American social history, his battle with drugs and his triumphant return home to Georgia. Early shows

Romeo and Juliet
Feb 17-18, 8 pm, Ruth
Seaton James Auditorium

This adaptation of the romantic tragedy is set in Northern Italy in the early 1960s, when several high-ranking Sicilian Mafiosi built networks with local underworld figures and eventually founded a high-calibre international syndicate, bringing old grudges and enmities along with them from the South – a background that lends itself perfectly to this tale of betrayal, romance and rebellion.
$50 General Admission; $38 Seniors;
$25 Students. bermudafestival.org

Red Priest
Feb 21-22, 8 pm,
Ruth Seaton James Auditorium
This acoustic foursome will bring their unique style to the stage for two high-octane performances of baroque, gypsy-style rock-chamber music. The quartet explores the melodies of early Bohemian Baroque masters intertwined with the music of Telemann and the 1730 Slovakian fiddler's tune book. A unique treat.

Ana Moura
Mar 1, 3 pm, Mid Ocean Amphitheatre,
Fairmont Southampton

Join the celebration of the 170th Anniversary of Bermuda's Portuguese community in style with one of Portugal's leading fado singers.
A voice that traipses freely through tradition,
but that also takes time to flirt elegantly with pop music, Moura skillfully transforms any melody into fado style with a deep and sensual timbre few others can produce.

Faces of Bermuda

Whether they're in the kitchen, on the water or tending the land, Bermuda's farmers, fishermen and chefs are putting fresh, island-inspired food on our tables. Come hungry.

MONICA ARRUDA
Owner of Monica's Bakery

When the Portuguese baker immigrated to Bermuda from the Azores in 1990, she already loved cooking. Then a teenager, Arruda learned from her mother, who prepared fresh-baked malasadas and other Portuguese treats she'd grown up eating.

"My grandmother used to be a baker, so my mother learned a lot from her," says Arruda, who specialises in savory focaccia and sweet fruit cakes. Fast-forward to 2017, when Arruda started her own business selling breads, jams and cookies at Bermuda's bustling weekend farmers' market at the Botanical Gardens. "Seeing people enjoy my food makes me fall even more in love with baking," she says. "I feel very lucky to do what I do."

To buy Monica's homemade goods, head to the farmers' market at the Bermuda Botanical Gardens in Paget, held every Saturday from 8 am-1 pm.

JON HITCHCOCK & KRISTIN HEYLIGER
Co-Owners of Wild Island Farms

"It's critical for people to have a good understanding of how their food is being produced," says Jon Hitchcock, co-owner of Southampton-based Wild Island Farms. "Being familiar with the producer - with their ethos, ethics and practices - will give the consumer a good idea of what they're actually ingesting on a daily basis." And everything that comes from the farm, including the chickens and ducks he raises for their eggs and their meat, couldn't possibly be more all-natural. "You get unrivaled freshness and quality by eating local," says Hitchcock, who along with partner Kristen Heyliger sells almost everything they raise to local residents, markets and restaurants. "Bottom line: The faster you consume the product," he says, "the healthier it is for you."

Wild Island Farms is located on Avocado Lane off Middle Road in Southampton. Stop by to purchase fresh eggs or to feed its flock of chickens and ducks. More details available at wildisland.bm

WELDON WADE
Lionfish hunter

As a commercial SCUBA diver, Weldon Wade has witnessed firsthand the impact invasive species have had on Bermuda's underwater ecosystem - specifically the Indo-Pacific lionfish, which has decimated the island's reef fish population. "Since lionfish have no predators in the Atlantic, they eat all the critters that live on the reef, then the reef dies because it doesn't have the necessary life to help it survive," says Wade. "It's a ripple effect that desperately needs our help." And help he has. Since lionfish are safe to eat, Wade regularly spearfishes the spiny swimmers, then sells them to local restaurants and markets. "The filets are delicious," he says of the white, flaky fish. "Pan-fried with a little olive oil and paprika, and you've got yourself a perfect dinner."

Even visitors can spear lionfish in their natural habitat. To obtain a lionfish culling permit, email the Ocean Support Foundation at permits@lionfish.bm.

SPENCER FIELD
Owner of Passion Fields Honey

You will not regret putting honey in most dishes you make," says Spencer Field, owner of Passion Fields Honey and more than 250 beehives he tends to daily. As the business's sole proprietor and singular employee, 31-year-old Fields wears lots of hats (in addition to the veiled headpiece that matches his white beekeeping suit, naturally) but he wouldn't trade the hard work for anything. "Everything I do is 100% blood, sweat and tears," he says, "but I've always been an advocate for the environment and doing something positive for the community." That includes setting up beehives for private individuals and selling his honey, which is coveted among enthusiasts, on the roadside. "It's the best job in the world," he says.

Want to try some of Spencer's locally made honey? Then look for his white van on the side of Trimmingham Road just outside of Hamilton, where he personally sells bottles most days.

A Tale of Two Breweries

When Dockyard Brewing Company opened at the Frog & Onion pub in 2007, it was the only microbrewery in Bermuda. That is, until Dave Jones – co-owner and head brew master of On De Rock – started tinkering with recipes for craft ales at home.

"I gave up golf because I was no good at it," says Jones, who along with partner Simon Watkinson launched the craft brewery in 2017. "So, every Sunday I would just brew at my house."

What resulted was a second burgeoning brewery that now has its draft beers in over 40 locations island-wide and is available in cans and bottles in markets across Bermuda.

"When you create a beer and it tastes the way you want it to, that's a big high for me," says Jones. But that doesn't mean he only tips back his own creations.

"Jim's a really good brewer over there," he says of Dockyard Brewing Company brew master Jim McLennan. "I love his Black Anchor Porter."

Jones frequently visits the Frog & Onion when he's not brewing his own lagers, ales and stouts. "We're in there all the time," he says. "It's nice to drink other guys' beers."

Growth has been steady since On De Rock's inception, so where does he see his microbrewery going next?

"I don't know if we ever want to get any bigger than Bermuda, but it's possible," says Jones.

On De Rock

Dockyard Brewing Company

St. David's Lager – Crisp lager brewed with European hops

Whale of Wheat – German Hefeweizen served with a lemon slice

Somers Amber Ale – Traditional, copper-coloured English bitter

Trunk Island Pale Ale – Hoppy IPA with a sharp, bitter finish

Black Anchor Porter – Rich dark ale in the classic London style

Bermuda Triangle Stout – Nitrogen infused with a creamy texture

On De Rock

Pilsner – Traditional, easy-drinking, straw-coloured lager

Belgian Blonde – Light and refreshing with a 7.5% abv punch

Pale Ale – Mildly hoppy sessionable brew that goes down easy

Honey Ale – Malt-forward beer with citrus tones from American hops

IPA – Super hoppy California-style India Pale Ale

Stout – In the classic style with notes of coffee and chocolate

Where to Belly Up for a Brew

Pop into one of these bars for a pint of locally brewed suds.

Hog Penny Pub

Said to be the inspiration for the bar in the 1980s sitcom Cheers, this traditional English pub hosts live music Wednesday through Saturday.

5 Burnaby Street,
City of Hamilton

The Doghouse

An American-style sports bar with TVs and draft beer galore, this late-night hangout is open until 3 am seven nights a week.

93 Front Street,
City of Hamilton

Pickled Onion

This Front Street fave features live music nightly and a sprawling outdoor patio where you can enjoy harbour views and warm Bermuda breezes.

53 Front Street,
City of Hamilton

White Horse Pub

Love karaoke? Then don't miss Friday nights at this popular St. George's dive bar just off King's Square, which rollicks until 1 am.

8 King's Square,
Town of St. George

Frog & Onion

Step back in time at the official home of the Dockyard Brewing Company – a cozy West-End pub housed inside an 18th-century stone cooperage.

Royal Naval Dockyard

Now In Cans!

Bermuda's craft beers can now be purchased at a select group of stores around the island. Want to bring home a taste of the island? Then stop into Miles Market on the outskirts of Hamilton for a sixer of Harry's Lager – a crisp pilsner brewed exclusively for nearby Harry's Bar – or head to Lindo's markets in Devonshire or Warwick for cans of On De Rock.

TRANSPORTATION

Public Buses

Regularly scheduled buses operate at frequent intervals to most of the destinations throughout Bermuda which visitors find of interest. There is a Central Bus Terminal on Washington Street in Hamilton, just off Church Street and a few steps east of the City Hall & Arts Centre. Bus stops are designated throughout the Island either by pink or blue poles – solid Pink inbound to the City of Hamilton; solid Blue outbound from the City of Hamilton.

Below shows a list of many of the destinations that visitors ask about most frequently.

The 'Visitors' Guide Bermuda Bus Schedule' is available from hotels and guest houses, the Visitor Information Centres and the ferry. Visit www.bermudabuses.bm for the full bus schedule.

Mini Buses

Privately operated mini buses' standards and fares are regulated by the Government of Bermuda. They provide single rides and sightseeing tours. Mini buses are a good alternative for large groups wishing to visit Bermuda's attractions.

Ferries

Ferries operate to and from City of Hamilton, Paget, Warwick and the West End including Royal Naval Dockyard all year. To St. George's April to November only. For fare details see separate SeaExpress brochure. Wheelchair access: the Ferry Terminal and the Dockyard, Rockaway and St. George's ferry stops only. For further information, please call Hamilton Ferry Terminal at 441-295-4506 or visit www.marineandports.bm. Service is subject to change.

Motor Scooters

Hired at liveries throughout the Island and through your hotel or guest house – visitors must be 18 years or older to drive. Law requires all persons (driver and passenger) riding motorised cycles to wear safety helmets. It is always wise to lock cycles when not riding them.

Remember – We Drive on the Left! Pedestrian crossings are indicated by black and white zebra stripes on the road. A single yellow line denotes 'no parking'. Speed limit throughout the Island is 35 kph (20 mph). Do not speed and do not keep looking behind you.

Traffic Lights in the City of Hamilton. At most intersections where there are traffic lights, pedestrians do not have the right of way on the crossing except when the green pedestrian light is showing. Pedestrian must push button on light pole for pedestrian green light. For the convenience of the blind, a bell will ring when the pedestrian light turns green. At other pedestrian crossings throughout the Island (marked by zebra stripes across the road), pedestrians do have the right of way and motorised traffic must stop in deference to pedestrians.

Some Important Traffic Signs

ROUNDABOUTS Traffic procedure: give way to traffic on immediate right.

CYCLE PARKING Motor cycles are required to park in marked cycle bays.

PEDESTRIAN CROSSING Look before stepping out on crosswalk.
